1. Aims

The aims of Relationships and Sex Education (RSE) at our school are to:

- Provide a framework in which sensitive discussions can take place
- Prepare pupils for puberty, and give them an understanding of sexual development and the importance of health and hygiene
- Help pupils develop feelings of self-respect, confidence and empathy
- Create a positive culture around issues of sexuality and relationships
- Teach pupils the correct vocabulary to describe themselves and their bodies

Relationship and Sex Education (RSE) is a major component of the school's comprehensive programme of Social, Moral, Spiritual and Cultural Education (SMSC) and PSHE (Personal, Social, Health Education), as well as promoting fundamental British Values.

In all areas of human experience a good base of knowledge and understanding is deemed necessary for informed opinions and decisions to be made – human sexuality is no exception.

It is vital that students receive effective RSE before they become sexually active or put themselves at risk in other ways. It is also vital to correct prejudice and misinformation that may affect relationships with others both now and in the future.

The importance of sexual relationships in all our lives is such that RSE has a crucial role to play in preparing children for their lives now and in the future as adults and parents. RSE learning information about the physical aspects of sex must be complemented by learning about family life, relationships and the exercise of personal responsibility towards other individuals and the broader community.

2. Statutory requirements

As an academy school we must provide relationships education to all pupils as per section 34 of the Children and Social work act 2017.

We do not have to follow the National Curriculum but we are expected to offer all pupils a curriculum that is similar to the National Curriculum including requirements to teach science which would include the elements of sex education contained in the science curriculum.

In teaching RSE, we are required by our funding agreements to have regard to guidance issued by the secretary of state as outlined in section 403 of the Education Act 1996.

At Oak Bank School we teach RSE as set out in this policy.

3. Policy development

This policy has been developed in consultation with staff, pupils and parents. The consultation and policy development process involved the following steps:

1. Review – a member of staff or working group pulled together all relevant information including relevant national and local guidance
2. Staff consultation – all school staff were given the opportunity to look at the policy and make recommendations
3. Parent/stakeholder consultation – parents and any interested parties were invited to attend a meeting about the policy
4. Pupil consultation – we investigated what exactly pupils want from their RSE
5. Ratification – once amendments were made, the policy was shared with governors and ratified

4. Definitions

RSE is about the emotional, social and cultural development of pupils, and involves learning about relationships, sexual health, sexuality, healthy lifestyles, diversity and personal identity.

RSE involves a combination of sharing information, and exploring issues and values.

RSE is not about the promotion of sexual activity.

5. Curriculum

Our Asdan curriculum covers the RSE outcomes as per Appendix 1. Curriculum information is available on the ASDAN Page of the school website. Content may need to be adapted as and when necessary to ensure compliance with statutory guidance.

We have developed the curriculum in consultation with parents, pupils and staff, taking into account the age, needs and feelings of pupils. If pupils ask questions outside the scope of this policy, teachers will respond accordingly.

Primary sex education will focus on:

- Preparing boys and girls for the changes that adolescence brings
- How a baby is conceived and born

For more information about our curriculum, see appendix 1 and our ASDAN Page on the Oak Bank website.

6. Delivery of RSE

RSE is taught within the personal, social, health and economic (PSHE) education curriculum that is accredited through ASDAN Qualifications and courses. Biological aspects of RSE are taught within the science curriculum, and other aspects are included in religious education (RE).

Pupils also receive stand-alone sex education sessions delivered by a trained health professional.

In Key stage 2, Relationships education focuses on teaching the fundamental building blocks and characteristics of positive relationships including:

- Families and people who care for me
- Caring friendships
- Respectful relationships
- Online relationships
- Being safe

For Key stage 3 and 4, RSE focuses on giving young people the information they need to help them develop healthy, nurturing relationships of all kinds including:

- Families
- Respectful relationships, including friendships
- Online and media
- Being safe
- Intimate and sexual relationships, including sexual health
- The Law

For more information about our curriculum, see appendix 1 and our ASDAN Page on the Oak Bank website.

These areas of learning are taught within the context of family life taking care to ensure that there is no stigmatisation of children based on their home circumstances (families can include single parent families, LGBT parents, families headed by grandparents, adoptive parents, foster parents/carers amongst other structures) along with reflecting sensitively that some children may have a different structure of support around them (for example: looked after children or young carers).

7. Roles and responsibilities

7.1 The governing board

The governing board will approve the RSE policy, and hold the headteacher to account for its implementation.

7.2 The headteacher

The headteacher is responsible for ensuring that RSE is taught consistently across the school, and for managing requests to withdraw pupils from non-statutory components of RSE (see section 8).

7.3 Staff

Staff are responsible for:

- Delivering RSE in a sensitive way
- Modelling positive attitudes to RSE
- Monitoring progress
- Responding to the needs of individual pupils
- Responding appropriately to pupils whose parents wish them to be withdrawn from the non-statutory components of RSE

Staff do not have the right to opt out of teaching RSE. Staff who have concerns about teaching RSE are encouraged to discuss this with the headteacher.

Lead staff with responsibilities for planning, delivery and monitoring of RSE include:

- Mr J Stead (Head of ASDAN)
- Mrs L Goldney (PSHE KS2/3/4 incl RE/RSE)
- Mr N Sheldon (Head of Key Stage 2)
- Teaching staff within the ASDAN department.
- Specialist behaviour support managers and staff who support the delivery of RSE.

7.4 Pupils

Pupils are expected to engage fully in RSE and, when discussing issues related to RSE, treat others with respect and sensitivity.

8. Parents' right to withdraw

Key Stage 2:

Parents do not have the right to withdraw their children from relationships education.

Parents have the right to withdraw their children from the non-statutory components of sex education within RSE.

Requests for withdrawal should be put in writing using the form found in Appendix 2 of this policy and addressed to the headteacher.

Alternative work will be given to pupils who are withdrawn from sex education.

Key Stage 3 and 4:

Parents have the right to withdraw their children from the non-statutory components of sex education within RSE up to and until 3 terms before the child turns 16. After this point, if the child wishes to receive sex education rather than being withdrawn, the school will arrange this.

Requests for withdrawal should be put in writing using the form found in Appendix 2 of this policy and addressed to the headteacher.

A copy of withdrawal requests will be placed in the pupil's educational record. The headteacher will discuss the request with parents and take appropriate action.

Alternative work will be given to pupils who are withdrawn from sex education.

9. Training

Staff are trained on the delivery of RSE as part of their induction and it is included in our continuing professional development calendar.

The headteacher will also invite visitors from outside the school, such as school nurses or sexual health professionals, to provide support and training to staff teaching RSE.

10. Monitoring arrangements

The delivery of RSE is monitored by Mr J Stead (Head of Asdan) and Miss R Freer (Deputy Headteacher) through:

- Learning walks
- Lesson Observations
- Drop ins
- Work scrutiny
- Display scrutiny
- Discussions with students and staff

Pupils' development in RSE is monitored by class teachers as part of our internal assessment systems.

This policy will be reviewed by Miss R Freer (Deputy Headteacher) annually. At every review, the policy will be approved by the governing body and the headteacher.

The ASDAN programmes that support delivery of RSE are robustly quality assured for content and statutory compliance by the Head of Qualifications and Exams (Ms M Phillips).
